

Mio DigiWalker™ C710

Navigation and Entertainment System

Mio DigiWalker™ C710

Is the Mio DigiWalker™ C710 a personal navigation device or a personal entertainment device? Yes. Designed for the fashion conscious traveler, the C710 combines highly accurate GPS navigation, comprehensive point-of-interest location, integrated Bluetooth and a feature-rich media player in a single device. On the road or on the couch, the C710 has got you covered.

All dressed up, with everywhere to go

The design of the C710 places it in a class by itself. Elegant and functional, this revolutionary device will look as good on your desk as it does on your dash. Completely self contained and ultra portable, the C710 slips easily into pocket, purse or briefcase and redefines the look of personal navigation.

Style and accuracy combine to reinvent portable navigation.

Look Ma, no hands

For the ultimate in convenience, the C710 features integrated Bluetooth compatibility as well as a built in speaker and microphone. These features, when used in combination with your Bluetooth enabled cell phone will allow you to make and take phone calls in a completely hands-free fashion, using the C710 as a self contained speakerphone.

The show must go on

Much more than a simple navigation device, the C710 is a complete handheld home entertainment system. From the ultra bright, backlit screen to the built in speaker and headphone jack the C710 is the perfect companion for any road trip. View photos, watch movies or listen to your favorite songs, the C710 does it all and does it with style.

It's where you're going.
